

Connecticut Sentencing Commission

11/16/2013

My name is Angel Acosta, inmate number 368451. I am currently an inmate at [REDACTED]. With the assistance of an elder inmate I'm writing this letter.

I was born 4/9/1992. I was 17 years old when I committed the regretful crime of manslaughter. I plead guilty and was sentenced to 16 years to serve in prison.

Many nights I cry myself to sleep trying to remember the details of that evening. My anger led me to a mental black out, causing a short term loss of memory. When I regained my mind state I realize my actions. I cannot forget the defenseless sight of the victim dying. I became numb. Still, five years later, words cannot express my sorrow.

I grew up in the North end of Hartford Ct. Prior to my incarceration, I completed the 8th grade in school. I lived in a single parent household with four siblings. I enjoyed living with my family and our home was full of love.

Throughout my confinement I strived to better myself daily. My anger, quick temper and hostility towards authority has decreased with hard work and self discipline. I m

Learning something that I never understood before; the difference between right and wrong. As I continue to mature and if given the opportunity for parole and early release, I look forward to returning home as a man.

Thank you for your Time

Sincerely Angel Acosta
